TO: Mrs. Debbie Hackett
FROM: Judge Myron H. Thompson myt

Recently, I agreed to sentence two defendants who were set to be tried on Judge DeMent's August 28 Criminal Term. I did this because their co-defendants are already being sentenced by me on October 10, and these two defendants have entered pleas in time to be sentenced with their co-defendants. Otherwise, if they had gone to trial, they would have remained with Judge DeMent for trial and sentencing. In other instances--such as, where the defendant plead guilty but does so too late to be sentenced with any co-defendants--we will continue to look at the matter on an ad hoc basis.

Debbie, I understand that this is generally our policy under these circumstances, and I ask that you include this memorandum in the Black Book on court policy.

Judge Ira DeMent
